TO: TE CONNECTIVITY

To Whom It May Concern:

On Tuesday, 11/19/19, we had the pleasure of having an assembly for our 4th graders, hosted by author Stephen Kozan. The assembly was very interactive and students were very excited to witness firsthand what authors and illustrators do when writing books.

The students learned about the genre of books that are written by Mr. Kozan and how they connect to everyday life. Students also had the opportunity to generate ideas for a fictional character, and witness him be created on the spot by the illustrator.

In addition, the students were excited to write seed ideas for their own stories, submit them to Mr. Kozan, and have the opportunity for their story to be published by his Publishing Company.

After speaking with the teachers and students about yesterday's assembly, the general consensus among students is one of excitement and hope that their seed idea will be chosen to be published.

On behalf of the students and staff of P.S. 110Q, we are very thankful to Mr. Kozan for his visit, and we look forward to finding out which student will be chosen to be published.

Sincerely,
